the dawning of a new decade

Darin,

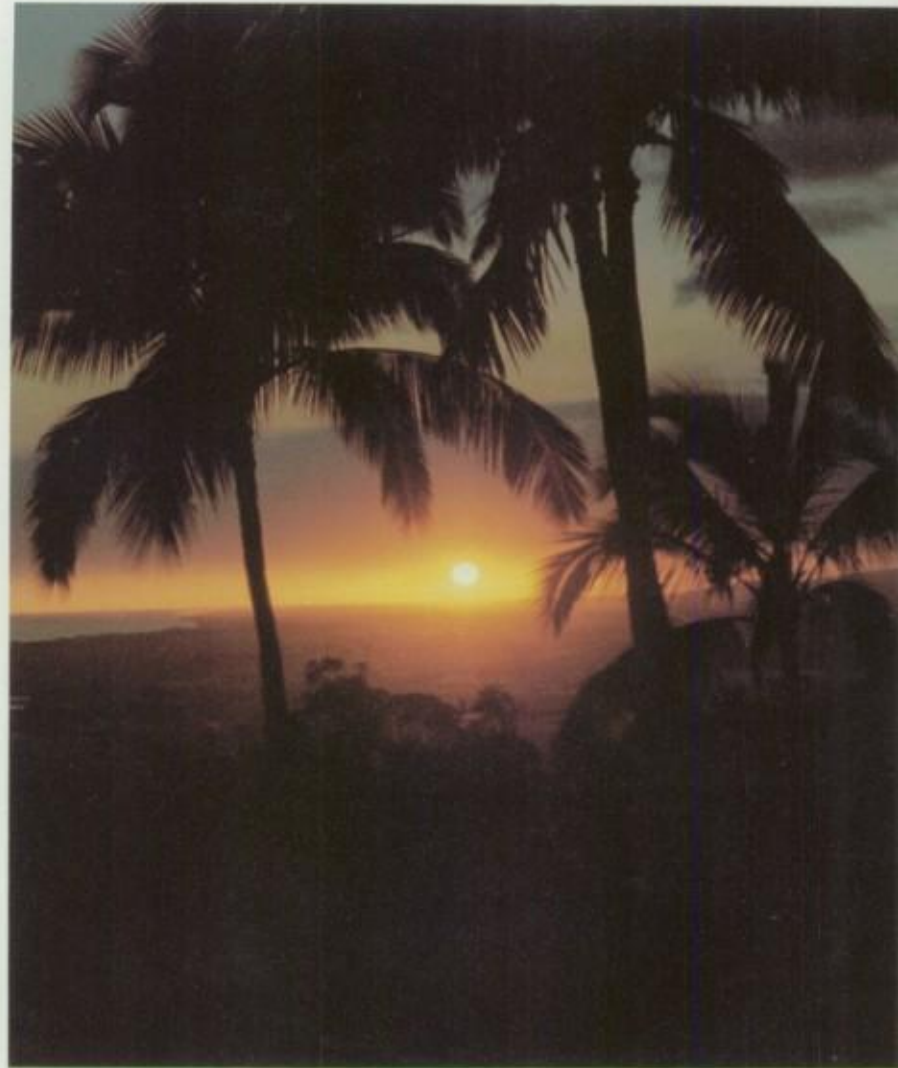

*as the sun begins to rise,
it brings a whole new era where the good times and the bad times are now a part of the past.
but still, these have inspired us
to continue our journey, like a stream flowing downward, experiencing new things every bit of its way, never to be captured again, like this ever-changing world where we are exposed to the forces around us; and here at kamehameha the instillment of a greater learning, success, and an appreciation of our heritage, continue to help us survive in this temporal society.
imua! children of pauahi,
for the setting of an old brings forth the dawning of... a new decade*

the dawning of a new decade. the sunrise, like the children of kamehameha, gradually progresses upward. each day being a different horizon, but a new beginning and a fresh start. it is the dawning of a new decade here at kamehameha, and modern facilities are being provided to help pauahi's children rise higher in the years to come.

the schools here provide such facilities as a modernized student production center in the midkiff learning center, advanced computer systems, and a new gym filled with the latest equipment. within the next ten years, the schools will be expanding and testing their research. for example, the children in both the kamehameha extension education program and kindergarten levels are testing some projects now, which should be perfected for future use. the pictures on these pages were chosen to help give you a better idea of how the future of kamehameha can take advantage of what looks to be an even brighter tomorrow.

he ho'olaule'a no na mea hawai'i he ho'olaule'a no na mea hawai'i was definitely a celebration of things hawaiian. the week of october 15 thru the 19 was chosen to revive our hawaiian heritage and to see that our pride be restored. on friday of that week blessings, respect, and class gifts were given to the ke aloali'i royal court, which was made up of the members of the student body. the classes also competed that day in their performances of music and dance, which were won by the juniors. individual winners of the lei contest were: liana neff, kehau kekua, carole kaapu, and queenie lloyd in different catagories of weaving. the spirit spear was shared by the seniors and sophomores. highlighting the program was the entertainment from the teiwi maori cook islanders who did cultural dances and later demonstrated the use of lauhala in creating hats, fans, and glasses. also presented were lectures on the kaho'olawe 'ohana, hawaiian food, music, and language.

homecoming

students, teachers, and staff all participated in the homecoming activities during the week of october 29 to november 3. blue and white day, twin day, and hat day were a few of the dress-up events for the week. other activities lined up included a banana split eating contest, a powder puff football game, spirit calls, and a penny count down. on friday, a pep assembly was held in kekuhaupi'o. later in the evening, our varsity football team chalked up another victory by defeating punahou 26 to 13. saturday came alive again with our first open dance in the gym which left everyone with good feelings.

ka makahiki 1979

each year, the elementary division celebrates makahiki, a time when lono, god of thanksgiving, returned to the hawaiian islands. the makahiki program is performed by the fourth, fifth, and sixth graders, who dance various hulas and chants telling of the creation of hawai'i nei, and offer gifts to lono.

aladdin and the wonderful lamp during late november, the drama class staged twelve performances of aladdin and the wonderful lamp. each performance had an audience of 500, amounting to a total of 6000 people. the play was directed by mr. james bertino and assistants robin stewart and lee ann genovia. pia kamakahi was the designer, and mr. bertino's theatre arts class controlled the theatre aspects. two casts performed the play. special thanks to mr. james bertino for providing the striking pictures and helpful information.

assemblies

for the past two years, due to the construction of the new kekuhaupi'o gymnasium, assemblies were held at konia field, creating a loose atmosphere and minimizing pep rally attendance. this year, however, the new kekuhaupi'o gym echoed with shouts of pride as students emitted their unending enthusiasm and support in the rebirth of a tradition.

founder's day

the schools had not seen such an event in nearly fifty years, a founder's day assembly in which all three divisions, elementary, intermediate, and high school, came together to honor bernice pauahi bishop, founder of the schools. on december 19, 1979, in the newly constructed kekuhaupi'o gym, the student body perpetuated the tradition of founder's day with such songs as, "for all the saints, he inoa no pauahi, and pauahi ke ali'i." to further interest and educate the audience, a ten minute skit was performed by a number of students featuring the development of the schools from pauahi's writing of her will to 1979. narrating the play was kaipo hale and noelani crabbe. portraying the roles of bernice pauahi and charles reed bishop were bernice eli and charles boyd.

as part of preparing for founder's day, the senior class members were taken to mauna'ala, the royal mausoleum, to learn more about the history of the ali'is. "e ola 'o kalani, e pauahi lani nui..." all in honor of the memory of our ali'i ...

christmas concert 1979

the evenings of december 7 and 8 came alive at the neal blaisdell concert hall with kamehameha's annual christmas concert. the combined glee clubs and musical accompaniments of the symphony band and the orchestra celebrated the coming of christmas with such songs as "o come all ye faithful, glory to god in the highest, jesus child," and many more. later in the program christmas in hawaii was also shared with the audience. the mellowness of these two evenings left everyone in joyful spirits for the holiday season.

LET ME TAKE YOU

to start the new school year, the student body was invited to a big welcome back dance in the newly constructed kekuhaupio gym. the "mind your own business" club, advised by mr. todd, sold various items such as flower leis, long stem carnations, and refreshments. as homecoming came to a close, an "open" disco/nostalgia dance was held to celebrate our victory over punahou. at this homecoming occasion a 50's dress up dance contest took place, followed then by a disco dance contest. at the end of the year, an aloha dance brought the school year to a close, and said "aloha" to all the graduating seniors.

drama club and thespians kamehameha's drama program really expanded this year with the addition of many new students. under the guidance of james bertino, their opening performance, entitled "alladin", was held during the month of november. a total crowd of over 6,000 people attended the fourteen performances of this play. kamehameha also did excellent in the hawaii state conference, held on february 8 and 9, in which twenty different high school drama clubs participated in. the presentation of "the diary of anne frank" in the hale kea-kali'ili'i was held thru the months of february and march, and attracted crowds that greatly enjoyed the well rounded performances.

speech club and national forensic league the speech team this year consisted primarily of many new freshmen competitors and devoted, hardworking returnees. their activities included a trip to kauai, fundraisers, and of course, lots and lots of practice. with the help of their coaches, judy naniolo, lois long, and walter kahiwa, the speech team as a whole managed to be one of the toughest competitors in the hawaii speech league.

kamehameha band

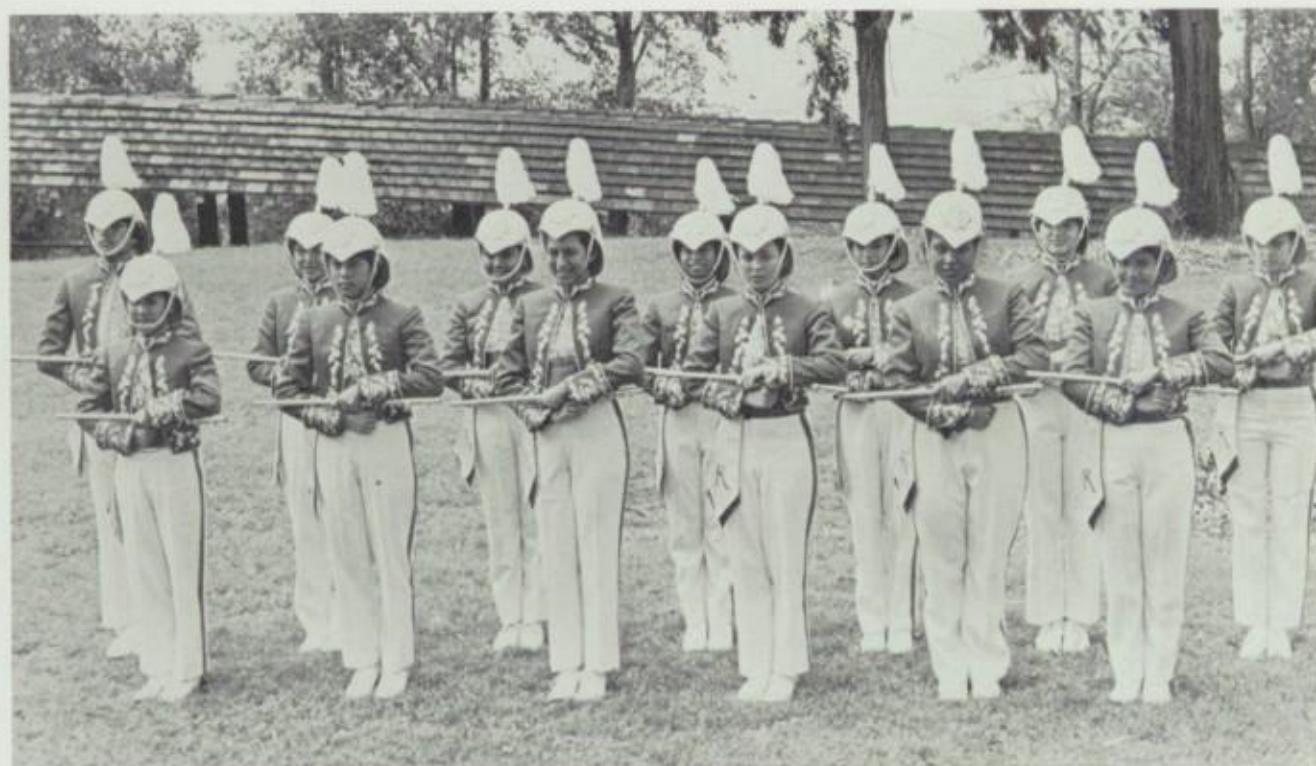

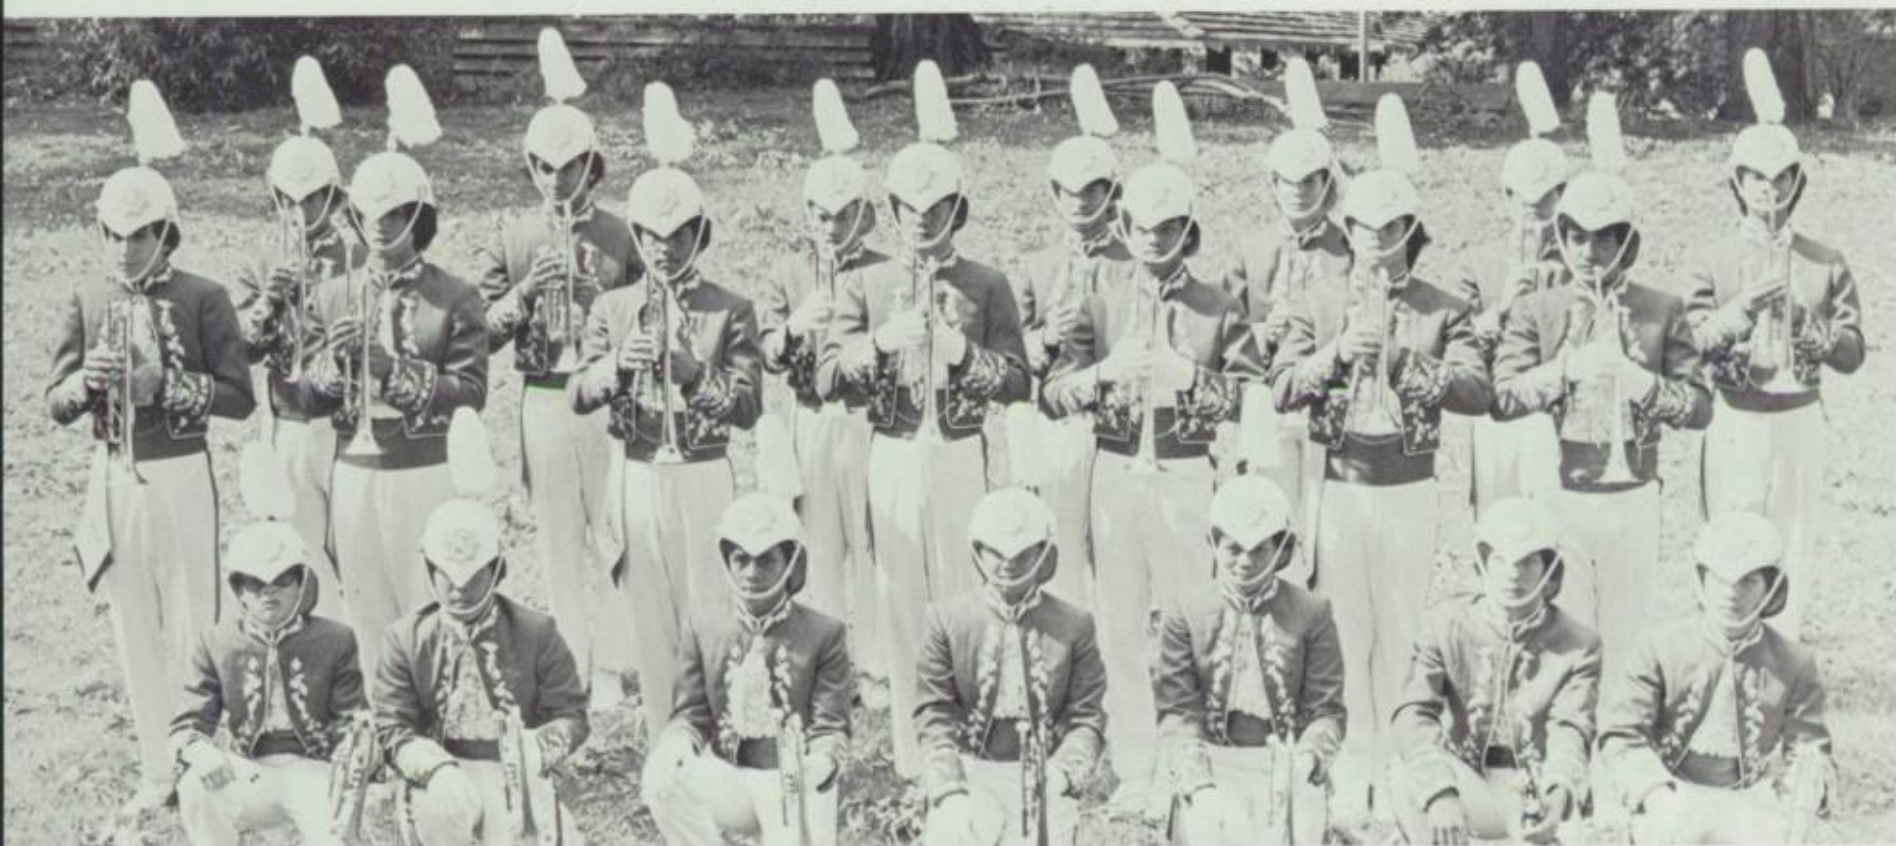

another year of hard work has paid off for the kamehameha warriors marching band and color guard who have continuously won numerous awards and have been ranked as one of the top ten bands in the nation. they have performed spectacularly in such events as pep rallies, football games, the kamehameha day parade, the christmas concert, the pop concert, which was a jazzier version of the spring concert, and the band-o-rama where the elementary, intermediate, and the high school bands combined to put on one great show. the band also participated in two tournaments, the kahuku tournament where they took the color guard, marching performance, outstanding soloist, marching and maneuvering, and the grand sweepstakes awards, and the third annual kamehameha tournament of bands which was presented by the kamehameha band boosters and sponsored by pepsi cola. nine bands participated in the tournament. three well known bands were kahuku, mililani, and sunnyvale. at this tournament, kamehameha band was judged and scored but only competed for the national associations national exhibition invitation to tennessee which was held in august of 1980. proving they were once more the top field show contenders, they captured this award by a slim two points over sunnyvale. this californian band was not in competition for the invitational but they won most of the individual awards of the tournament. sunnyvale was formerly directed by john riggles, this year's director of the kamehameha marching band. assisting john riggles was aristotle santa cruz.

lettermen's club

the lettermen's club officers worked hard to complete plans for a total of 600 lettermen. their activities included planning the varsity banquet, a junior varsity ice cream social, and selling refreshments at the snack bar in kekuhaupi'o which was one of the many fundraising projects. working along with the athletic department, the officers tried to promote good relationships with the coaches to reward those students that were involved in sports.

dormitory residents advisory council it was no easy task but the twenty-four members of the dormitory residents advisory council managed to plan events for approximately 400 boarders. the different committees and representatives from each dorm planned hui activities such as volleyball and basketball, a camp out makahiki, rollerskating, and many other events. they also listened to any complaints that the boarders may have had. these students helped to make life on campus more enjoyable.

legislative apprentice

to become a legislative apprentice, one needed a teacher recommendation, a written essay and an interview. the two students chosen for this program, which earned them five school credits, were juniors esther kiaaina and tanya chang. esther worked for state legislator milton holt, a kamehameha graduate. when asked why she wanted to become an apprentice, esther replied, "this program helps one learn more about the government and law. one can gain more experience through this program." tanya worked for state legislator calvin say. along with tanya, worked a kamehameha alumni, haunani alm (ho). she was the first apprentice from kamehameha when the program started and now she works there regularly. she also advised tanya with her work and taught her the ropes of the law business.

credit union

the student credit union, located in the gym basement, was opened during school hours for deposits and withdrawals. the parent credit union, located in haleakala, was opened during the day, on weekends, school vacations and the summer. every month, the credit union board along with the tellers planned an activity. in october, the credit unions from all around the state, including kamehameha's, gathered at camp erdman in mokule'ia to talk about their credit union programs and how they work.

the kamehameha schools concert glee club was composed of 60 energetic voices from grades 10 thru 12. under the direction of mr. dale noble, the previous boys' concert glee director, the members of the glee club blossomed into mature minded singers. this year, concert glee was fortunate to have student teachers, randy fong and suzanne kaupū. their love for music and for concert glee was instilled into the hearts of each member. kahiko and 'auwana mele were learned by everyone in the group, and were danced at hawaiian performances with much enjoyment. kumu hula for concert glee was holoua stender. he was assisted over the latter part of summer, by hula experts, darrell lupenui and frank hewitt, during the concert glee summer camp. on november 23 thru 25, 1979, the group had the honor of participating in the dedication of kamehameha's birthsite on the big island. they also used this trip as a retreat to learn music for the christmas concert. several other islands, which these performers toured, included maui, moloka'i, and Kaua'i. the major fundraiser for the concert glee was their annual christmas tree sale. on january 19, 1980, the concert glee hosted a spring choral festival, which was held at the kekuhaupio gym. schools such as punahou, iolani, kalani, radford, and other well known choirs also participated in this event.

this year, kamehameha had the honor of enrolling two rarotongan exchange students. they were specially selected by their school to experience hawai'i. selina matenga and mataroa mataroa are these two people. they arrived here one week before school started in august, attended the tenth grade, and left on march 16—after song contest was over. they lived in dorms on campus, as they experienced their new but temporary lifestyle. jean kinney stewart, kimo huddy, and samiann hussey were the kamehameha exchange students to rarotonga in the cook islands. these three sophomores attended classes in hawaiian culture and history before leaving, as they might relay information of their islands to rarotonga. jean kinney stewart and kimo huddy lived with mataroa's parents, while samiann hussey lived with selina's parents. "life is so different here," commented selina, "although i really like it." she and mataroa take part in all of the many different school activities between september and march, including founder's day and song contest. she is an active participant in hui sports such as tennis, soccer, basketball, and volleyball.

"even though everything is so different, the people here are really nice and friendly," mataroa said. mataroa is also very active in sports here at kamehameha. he plays hui football, basketball, and volleyball. the benefits of such exchanges lie in international, cultural, and personal understandings, as they learn and live with people of other nations.

To the one and only Darin,
You are a sweet, funny, wonderful, terrific guy. I'm glad that we could be friends this year.
I hope our friends will only grow. I hope we can keep in touch in the summer. Promise me that you will remember me and we can be friends in 9th grade.

Friends Always,
Crystal Payana

class of 1983

with purple as their color, the freshman class of 1983 entered into their first year of high school. class activities included an ice cream social and a class dinner dance, both held at 'akahi dining hall.

class of 1983

this was a year of great adjustments for both the freshmen and their class counselor, since this was their first year in high school, as well as being ms. vicki lar rieu's first year as a counselor. described as a class "interested in doing what's best for the school", the freshmen showed vibrant class spirit at pep rallies and spirit competitions throughout the year, which resulted in their winning the spirit spear at the first pep rally. class events included an ice cream social, class dinner/dance, and a root beer bust.

Howzit Darin,
Well this year was so crazy choices and radical with you around Have a crazy summer and see ya next year until then ooo

God Bless

P.S. we made it

and

Take Care!

Tyran Powell

Darin,
It has been a very, I repeat, a very interesting 7th grade knowing a guy with a swell sense of humor. Oh,
the ink is different 'cause
my other pen
when broke.
Have a choice
summer and stay funny.

Friends
Mel

Darin,
These years I've spent w/ you have been the craziest. Take care and behave yourself over the summer.

this year's football competition brought about stronger competitors to the i.l.h.. unexpectedly, pac 5 was one of the competitors who, in previous years, were an underated team. although the warriors suffered a second round, 13-0 upset by damien, they came back to fight and captured the i.l.h. crown for the third consecutive year.

imua spikers! boys' varsity volleyball

"point!" yelled the referee. the score was kamehameha 14 and damien 7. the referee signaled scott victorino to serve. cheers of support rallied him to serve an ace and rack up another win for the varsity boys' team. this year's team was composed mainly of underclassmen, "many who seem promising for next years team." head coach for the boys team was hansen nuuhiwa. captains of this year's team were doug wong, darwin chang, and ezra furtado. early in the season the team entered a tournament in hilo. they challenged teams such as st. joseph, waieka, kohala, hawaii preparatory academy and two adult teams, and won four of their five matches. they also entered a tournament at iolani school, but the result "was not as good." the toughest competitors the warriors faced were punahou and iolani. overall the varsity placed 6th within the i.l.h.

j.v. netters smash opposition former kamehameha graduate stanley vincent guided the young netters to overcome their opponents with hard and strenuous practice sessions after school. they displayed their agility game after game losing only once to maryknoll. they exhibited powerful slams and counteracted with careful and decisive defense.

time and endurance were the keys for this year's cross-country teams. the boys' teams showed their strength by placing third with the girls taking a strong second at the i.l.h. championships held at mid-pacific. glenn akiona and celine carvalho both took seventh place honors in their respective categories at this meet. both teams qualified to compete in the hawaii high school athletic association cross-country championships held at waiehu municipal golf course in wailuku, maui on the sixteenth of november. running a hard, fast, three mile course, the boys met their goal of placing in the top five teams in the state by clinching fifth place. the girls, running a difficult two mile course, finished their season by placing ninth in the state. tony le bran and debbie fuller, both in their first year of coaching cross-country, developed two teams that were very competitive in the i.l.h. as coach le bran said earlier in the year, "whatever we win is just frosting on the cake."

soccer, the fastest growing sport in america, has been a part of kamehameha's extra-curricular activities since 1975. it first started out as a club, and then as interest started to grow, and more people started to join, it developed into a sport. finally it was labeled this year as a contact sport. this years' squads are the best teams since its beginning with the varsity taking third in the i.l.h. and the j.v. taking fifth. and even more promissing season is predicted next year by coach reid weicks as the team becomes more experienced.

j.v. soccer girls scored high in spirit

"go for the goal, go for the gusto!" was the motto of the girls' junior varsity soccer team. the team was comprised of sixteen enthusiastic players, most of whom were totally new to the sport. they competed against such seasoned teams as st. andrew's priory, punahou blue, and punahou gold. the j.v. girls placed fourth within the i.l.h. with a record of 1-7-1 and were coached by kiki lau popieski.

varsity soccer girls kicked off to a great season the varsity team was made up of top-notch players winning a majority of their fourteen w.i.s.a., (women's island soccer association), games and placing second within the i.l.h. the team had four wins, three losses, and two ties in i.l.h. with a grand total of thirty-one goals for and nine goals against. sonja collins and boni huddy were named i.l.h. leading scorers with seven goals each. both made the i.l.h. all-stars, sonja for the forward position and boni in the halfback position. other i.l.h. all-stars were fullbacks wendy look and norma pekelo, halfback vanessa chong, and forward cheryl neumann.

riflery aims for perfection

under the watchful coaching of darrell lim and senior captains mark fujimoto and deric wong, the rifle team faced their first loss of the i.l.h. crown in five years, coming in second place. though the annual maui match was cancelled this year, members maintained their team moral and school spirit throughout the bumpy season.

the girls' varsity softball team, coached by hank makekau, alika thompson, and assisted by walter arasato, batted their way into second place for the third consecutive year in the i.l.h. division. earlier in the season, the team went to hilo for the hilo invitational tournament which was unfortunately rained out. some of their most competitive teams were star of the sea, saint andrews priory, and university high school, who placed first in the i.l.h. division with kamehameha right behind. even though the girls' varsity softball team placed eighth in the state tournament, they still enjoyed the fun and competitiveness of the games.

"quality rather than quantity", is a saying that could well have been used to describe this year's diving team. being a part of the swim team, points scored by the divers were added to the swimmers' points during competition. the team members and their coach showed pride and determination at the diving competitions, which were held at swim meets between the various swimming events.

the girl's varsity swim team shocked punahou by sweeping the i.l.h. to take the title away from the usual punahou team. the boy's team held their own as they came short by a mere few points. they too have shocked their opposition by coming so close to beating the number one team, who has run away with the title for ages.

varsity "a" shoots to score the varsity "a" basketball boys represented kamehameha in the second division of the inter-scholastic league of honolulu. the team was made up of eleven devoted players, six juniors and five seniors. the warriors played against nine other highly competitive teams such as punahou, university high, mary knoll, and damien. mark crabbe and robert miller led in scoring. robert miller was also co-captain of the team along with mike adams. the players were guided by kamehameha's math instructor albert apo and assistant george manu.

a person once said, "to be a good gymnast all you need is a few pipes and bars to swing on, a box to jump over, and a body of a greek god or goddess." what ever the requirements are, it is certain that a gymnast must always strive for excellence-as did this years gymnastic teams. this years boys team completely dominated the i.l.h. while the girls team shows increasing promise in the coming years.

wrestlers pin them down!

the varsity wrestling team, led by eight returnees, gripped onto a winning season this year. in the pre-season kahuku invitational held december 21 and 22, the varsity team did exceptionally well as they placed fifth out of twenty one teams. with smashing wins, the varsity team progressed forward to win other games, as their experience and victories grew. there were two new coaches this year, alan johnson, who wrestles for the a.a.u. league, and steve robello, who was a former state champ and graduate of kamehameha.

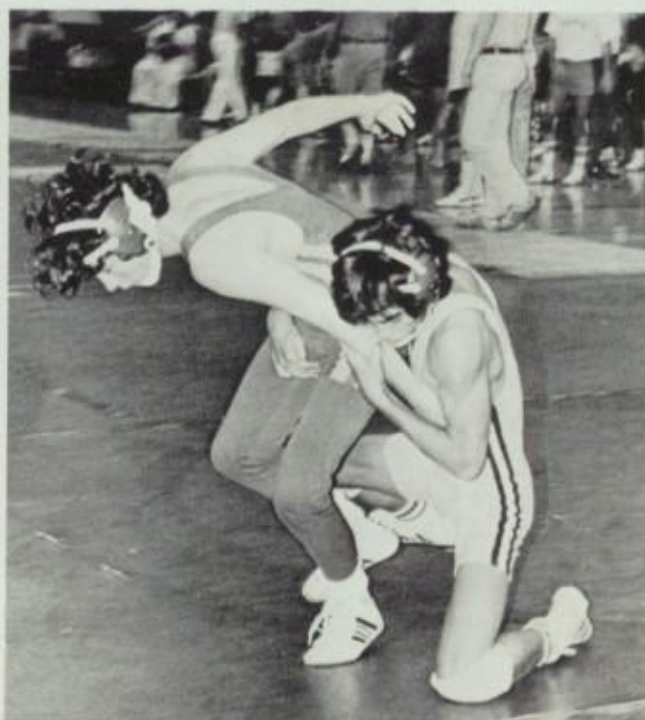

it was an impressive year for the junior varsity wrestling team. six returnees gave the word experience to the team, as there were many new members. however, this did not stop the junior warriors. unlike last year, many seventh and eighth graders attended the games and practices, as they cheered both junior varsity and varsity teams on to victory. by supporting the teams, the boys gained insight as to what it was like to be an i.l.h. wrestler at kamehameha.

j.v. tennis teams advance with good serves some of the many qualities a tennis player must have had was the "ability on endurance and stamina." the j.v. boys' and girls' tennis teams improved and they portrayed just that. the returnees for the girls' team were walletta atchison, mindy chung, elsie makekau and laurie ontai. for the boys' team they were brian pajimola and stephen young. the newcomers, however, had to experience their first i.l.h. competitions. but, nevertheless, they did well in their matches and developed into better tennis players.

this was the building year for the members of the j.v. and varsity boy's bowling teams. since losing last year's senior members, the varsity was the youngest team to compete in the i.l.h. league. though they did not make it to the top, their coach, mickie ceberano feels they have the potential and capability. "i expect them to place first next year. in the years to come, the other teams better watch out for kam!" both the j.v. and varsity teams had their matches at kalihi bowl, tuesday's and thursday's at 3:30. their hardest opponent was damien. mickie and al "slick" ceberano were proud of both teams, but were impressed with the j.v.'s attitude toward each game. "they looked forward to all games and tried their best."

makes a splash!*

This years' varsity and junior varsity waterpolo teams showed terrific team spirit and effort. although they won only half of their games, both teams showed great promise for the future. coaches bob ramsey and kihei de silva have trained their teams to show good sportsmanship.

opposite page-top left: coach kihei de silva concentrates on a strategy for the waterpolo team. top right: curt tokunaga prepares to pass the ball to a teammate while trying to avoid his opponent. bottom left: robert plunkett superbly blocks an attempted point made by his challenger. bottom right: s.v. team-1) robert plunkett, koa asam, kai young, ian young, curt tokunaga. 2) shayne castanera, kaili chun, charlsa grace, royce makaea, zayn biven, berthia doar. left: j.v. team-1) edward stormont, keoni smith, robert plunkett, earl dayton. 2) nikki lavatai, charlsa grace, brendan chang, kalani pruet. 3) camilla wrangler, theresa dayton, michelle yoshimitsu, malia taum, michelle fredholm. above: coach bob ramsey discusses a team play to royce makaea and edward stormont while other teammates in the water listen in.

you've been a great friend to me, and I hope that you will always be. May all your dreams come true and I hope you have fun wherever you go. Keep being a nice person like you are today.
always

*as i take a giant step in growing up i will always have many memories of my twelve years at kamehameha that i'll always cherish many of them are of the good times i've shared with my friends:
mahi, cheryl, vanessa, pudgy, cissy, and the punk no, i didn't forget you kimo. one who has gone through a lot of my joys and let downs cheryl and mahi, thanks for listening to my problems, even though you sometimes didn't understand last of all, to my baby sister, bonimae thanks for being one of the best friends i've ever had i wish each of you all the luck in the world as you continue in life, and want to thank you for making my high school years so "cherry." love ya' all,

i don't give many people
i thought you understood
i guess i was wrong,
you seem to run.*

lionel payes receives help from mr. lewis.

five seniors represented kamehameha in the 1980 junior miss competition. they were vanessa chong, ferlyne cruz, bertha doar, patty kanuha, and terri-jo kane. judging was based on academic achievement, talent, physical fitness, poise, and personal interviews. terri-jo became semi-finalist and went on to compete in the final night. when asked if she thought the competition was worthwhile, she commented, "i definitely feel that the jr. miss contest was worthwhile. the contest gave one a sense of accomplishment. it helped senior girls gain a lot more confidence in themselves. it gave them a chance to meet other girls their age from other schools who were interesting, intelligent, fun and just plain terrific. the opportunities that the contest offered were magnificent, and the experiences that i gained from it was unsurpassable."

Kilhemina,

5-23-80

Been great knowing supa guy like you. Was pun ~~for~~ having you sitting in back of me for English.
See next year in 9th (shoppe).

Darin,

It has been nice
knowing you. Have a choice summer. Friends

Pua
#

Warner Kua
Shoreline

Darin,

So sorry that I depressed you but we're still friends and that's the main thing.
I hope that we will still be friends in the years to come. Take care of yourself over the summer.

Tracy,
Robyn

Darin,

Have a real good summer!

Don't fool around with _____ _____ too much. Keep up all those cute looks.

Aloha,

Lynelle Sakamoto

P.S.

Remember! Now you're a fresh man and you can score with more older chicks
now. also we all should go rollerskating again soon. Keep in touch!

Bye!!
